Railroad Strike Off

Brotherhood Leaders Send Out Notices to Chairmen All Over Country

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, Oct. 28.—Secret code messages to the general chairmen directing them to notify the local chairmen the proposed railroad strike was called off at the Chicago meeting last night, were sent out today from the general offices here of the trainmen, engineers and firemen's brotherhoods.

The First Report

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The rail strike, scheduled for October 30, was averted last night when leaders of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen at a joint meeting adopted resolutions withdrawing authorization of a walkout and officials of the railroad telegraphers' organization announced they would take similar action.

These were the only unions which had authorized a strike.

The vote calling the strike was unanimous by organizations, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced. The official wording of the resolution adopted was that "the strike is declared not effective."

Unofficial reports were that the firemen's executives had strenuously opposed adoption of the resolution. None of the presidents would confirm this, however.

Lee Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, said that the unions had decided to call off the strike because of "the growing public opinion that the strike would be against the labor board, and consequently the government and not against the railroads."

"It was evident, also, that the entire Washington administration was opposed to us and that we have had little chance of gaining our objectives," said Mr. Sheppard.

"We declared the strike to gain certain rights to which our men were entitled," Mr. Sheppard told the Associated Press.

"It soon became evident, however, that the roads were succeeding in their misleading propaganda to the effect that we really would be striking against the government."

"This railroad propaganda has found its way to the United States Railway Labor Board. This governmental agency told us that it would look into the strike as against it and the government and not against the roads, and the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out. Under such circumstances, there was nothing to do but annul our orders for the October 30 walkout."

Bomb Plot Rumor at Church Proves Untrue

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 28.—The customary action of church authorities in clearing the edifice in order that ticket holders only could be present, gave rise to a bomb plot rumor at St. Patrick's cathedral here today, when Rev. Joseph Dunn was consecrated bishop. It was stated the presence of detectives at the ceremony had no significance.

SAPIRO TO SPEAK IN GARRARD SATURDAY

Madison Growers To Hear Marketing Expert Again—4,000,000 More Lbs. Signed

A number of Madison county growers along the Garrard border are planning to go to Lancaster Saturday and hear Aaron Sapiro talk again on the tobacco marketing plan. Sapiro makes the proposition so clear-cut that there can be no possible argument advanced against the plan to help the growers.

With about four million pounds of tobacco added to the pool as a result of three days' work over the burley district, more than 3,500,000 pounds of tobacco were signed up Wednesday at two meetings, one at Williamstown, Grant county, which was addressed by Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, and the other at Elkron, Meade county, at which James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, was the chief speaker. At Williamstown 253,000 pounds were reported as having been signed up and the Meade county growers added 100,000 pounds to their pool.

With the encouragement of 15 counties over the top, including Mason, the largest of the northern Kentucky tobacco-producing counties, with nearly 5,000,000 pounds signed, according to the figures of Secretary J. Arthur Kehoe, the burley tobacco growers resumed their drive this week for the remainder of the necessary acreage to make their pool for 1921 a success, with a number of largely attended meetings.

Mr. Sapiro on his return to Lexington Saturday from Lawrenceburg, spoke in behalf of the marketing plan before the Woman's Club of Central Kentucky. Mrs. E. L. Hutchinson took the "anti" side of the proposition and made a brilliant speech in opposition to the application of the principle to the marketing of tobacco in Kentucky.

At the Woman's Club meeting Mr. Sapiro sketched some of the facts on which the movement is not new, but has been in Denmark for 60 years. He said the movement started in California in 1894 with two associations and that now 21 of these associations are in operation in that state.

Mr. Sapiro told of the spread of the movement to all the South and Southwest. He took Swift's corporation as an instance of the successful distribution of foodstuffs and the utilization of by-products. He said the corporation made money and satisfied its stockholders.

Discussing what would be the result if Swift & Co. sent its products to its stockholders to be sold on the resulting chaos, he said this was exactly the method by which tobacco was marketed. He said that 85 per cent of American business was conducted on a corporate basis or group production.

Mr. Sapiro told of the problems that were solved by group production, transportation and grading and supply and said the co-operative associations "merchandised their products." He told of the plan of organization of these associations on long-term contracts so that a well organized machine may be developed to handle the product, which the growers agree to deliver to the association.

Eggs Get Fancy Prices

Mr. Sapiro told of the success of the poultrymen of California, with 2,400,000 hens signed up by the members and a production of 12,000,000 dozen a year. He told how these eggs, handled carefully by the association, were sold above the market in New York and even in England. Only poultry raisers are allowed to be members.

He told how the co-operative associations increased consumption by national advertising and

MRS. WILLIAM RODES NEW D. A. R. REGENT

Final Session of Convention Is Held At Frankfort—Much Business Done

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 28.—Mrs. William Rodas, Lexington, was elected regent and the place for the 1922 conference of the organization left to the executive board at the closing session of the annual conference here Thursday of the Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution. A resolution that the society adopt the old Capitol building at Frankfort as a permanent meeting place, was voted down.

Twenty chapters contributed $1,779 toward the memorial school to be established at Hueysville, Floyd county. Chapters which made no voluntary contributions today signed their intention of taking the matter up at the next chapter meetings.

The Bryan Station chapter, of Lexington, topped the list with a contribution of $175. This chapter, as well as the Jemimah Johnson, of Paris; Logan Whitley, of Sanford; Boonesboro, of Richmond, and Sennah Hart Shelby chapter, of this city, had contributed $150, but each was enabled to increase the subscription to $175 by the contribution of $25 made by Mrs. C. C. Patrick.

The conference adopted the resolution of Mrs. James A. Leach, of Louisville, chairman of the preservation of flags committee, endorsing the movement for federal and state laws for the protection of the flag. The 1921 General Assembly will be asked to pass a law for the protection of the flag in this state.

Besides Mrs. Rodas, officers elected were: Mrs. John W. Chenault, Louisville, vice regent; Mrs. Lucien Beckner, Winchester, recording secretary; Mrs. Victor K. Dodge, Lexington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stanley Reed, Maysville, treasurer; Mrs. E. G. Boone, Paducah, historian; Mrs. Eugene Ray, Louisville, registrar; Miss Esther Burch, Stanford, librarian; and Mrs. Jasper Muir, Bardonia, chaplain.

Miss Julia Spurr, chairman of the committee on preservation of historic spots, read a paper at the morning session giving a brief account of historic spots which have been appropriately marked different chapters. She urged the daughter to adopt the suggestion made yesterday by Mrs. George Baker, of this city, to erect a monument in the D. A. R. lot in the Frankfort cemetery. This morning it was announced that more than $200 had been raised toward the monument fund. The lot was presented to the Daughters of the state by the Frankfort chapter.

Three change were made in the constitution and by-laws of the society as recommended by the committee headed by Mrs. Charlton Alexander. The changes increase the amount to be paid by each chapter for each member from 20 to 25 cents; make each regent an honorary state regent for life, and give the state regent the power to fill all offices by appointment, should vacancies occur.

A resolution offered by Mrs. Lucien Beckner, of Winchester, providing that all of the state conferences be held in this city, were rejected during the closing hours. Mrs. Beckner offered the resolution at the suggestion of H. V. (Continued on 2nd Page) utilized by-products, besides developing new market until "there are months to eat every pound we produce."

Mr. Sapiro said that in the old days the producers of dried fruit got 8 per cent of the consumer's dollar. Under co-operation the producer received 48 per cent, he said. Eighty per cent of the organized growers, he said, made money, while 80 per cent of those outside the co-operatives lost money.

Illustrating the prosperity and good effects that follow co-operative marketing, he told of the large attendance from the rural districts at the University of California. He said under the old system Kentucky was not getting any return in culture, as in California.

He said the tobacco growers simply proposed to introduce business methods into the handling of their crops.

FOCH ARRIVES FOR LEGION CONVENTION

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 28.—A mighty bombardment of cheers greeted Marshal Foch when he arrived here today on the steamship Paris.

Can't Visit Louisville

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Oct. 28.—A radio message from Marshal Foch to Arthur Kroek, editor of the Louisville Times, regretted that he could not visit Louisville on his trip to America.

Pershing Arrives, Too

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 28.—General Pershing, who is returning from France where he conferred the Congressional medal of honor on unknown soldiers of France and Great Britain, reached port today in ample time to greet Marshal Foch, who was due later in the day on another ship. Foch is coming to attend the Kansas City convention of the American Legion, after leading to victory ten million soldiers in the greatest struggle of all time.

CENTRE-HARVARD GAME RETURNS

Local fans have made arrangements to get returns on the Centre-Harvard game at Boston Saturday, play by play. The public is invited to meet at the Court House in the lower court room where the news will be read as each play takes place in the stadium. The news will begin coming in about 1:30 o'clock. It is planned to have a blackboard on hand that each play may be graphically represented and that the crowd may know the position of the ball on the field.

WILL HAYS HURT IN TRAIN SMASH

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 28.—Postmaster General Hays and a score of passengers were injured early today when the Pennsylvania express from Washington struck the rear of a local train in a fog at Jersey City. Hays was hurled to the floor from his sleeper. Aside from strained muscles he suffered no harm.

MADISON HI AT LANCASTER FRIDAY

Madison Hi plays the Lancaster eleven at Lancaster Friday. The locals are scraping a team together that they feel can lick Lancaster, although Lancaster is considered to be one of the best teams in this section of the state. Lancaster defeated Normal Hi in the early part of the season by a score of 1 to 0.

Madison has been putting in some hard practice this week to master its weak points that were shown in the Hustonville game. They also have to fill two vacancies on the regular team since they will be minus the services of T. Stone and Claude for most of the remaining season. The Madison boys, however, are going about their work with a winning spirit and are sure to give a good account of themselves in the Lancaster game. Frank Hacker, captain of the Madison eleven, has been shifted to the quarterback position from end and gave good account of himself in the Paint Lick struggle. Hugely, Wilson and Anderson will more than likely compose the remaining back field positions. These lads have shown up well most of the season but they will still have some room for improvement, as most every member of the High School team has.

This is Madison's first of three games on foreign fields and Normal Hi also plays away for the next two weeks.

HAS GROWN LARGELY UNDER GRACE OF GOD

Calvary Baptist Church's New Home To Be Formally Dedicated Sunday, Oct. 30

The new Calvary Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday, October 30th. There will be all-day services with dinner served on the ground. The usual Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a. m. Prof. John L. Hill, of Georgetown, will teach the Men's Bible class. Rev. J. H. Reynolds, former pastor of the First Baptist church, who organized Calvary Baptist church, will give a brief historical address on "How Calvary Church Began" at the close of the Sunday school hour. He will tell of the meager beginning of this church and its development. The dedicatory services will begin promptly at 11 a. m. Rev. J. W. Beagle, of the State Board, will preach the sermon. In the afternoon Messrs. Luther Mize, Wm. Royce and D. C. Sparks will be ordained the first deacons of the church. Prof. John L. Hill and Rev. J. R. Reynolds will be the speakers at that service.

On Saturday the Executive Board of Tate's Creek Association will meet with the Calvary church. A special service will begin at 9:30 a. m. Lunch will be served at noon and the business session of the board will convene at 12:30 p. m.

Calvary Baptist church has a very interesting and marvelous history. It had such a small beginning and has prospered under such unthinkable circumstances, that it may be called a twentieth century miracle, which stands as a living monument to God's grace and power. Below is given a brief sketch of its history:

In March, 1916, Rev. J. R. Reynolds, then pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, secured a vacant store building on Estill avenue, opposite the L. & N. railway station, in which he organized a Mission Sunday School to meet each Sunday afternoon, using two of his members for teachers. At the first meeting there were only five children present. But the school gradually increased until the small store building could not accommodate it. It was then divided into two separate Sunday Schools. A Children's Sunday School met at 9:30 a. m. of which Mrs. J. R. Shaw was superintendent and teacher of the junior boys and girls, and Miss Jessie R. ngo taught the primary class. An adults' Sunday School met at 3:00 p. m. of which Rev. Reynolds was superintendent and teacher of the men's Bible class, and Mrs. R. G. Stott taught the ladies' Bible class. This work grew rapidly during the fall of 1916 and out of this Mission Sunday School grew Calvary Baptist church.

Rev. R. L. Brandenburg, of Union City, held a revival meeting with Rev. Reynolds at this mission during the entire month of December 1916. There were eleven received by baptism. These expressed a desire to organize a church. Rev. Reynolds and the deacons from the First Baptist church effected the organization of Calvary Baptist church. The names of these desiring to become charter members were taken, and the number increased to eighteen, the increase coming by letter from other churches. Soon afterwards, Rev. Reynolds left Richmond and entered another field of labor. Some of these 18 charter members grew discouraged. The building lot which they had purchased on East Main street was sold and the money given to charity. It seemed that the little church would fail. But some of the members, like Blanche's ghost "would not down."

In January 1917 Rev. B. F. Petty was called as pastor of this little band of courageous Christians. The work moved off nicely under his leadership and on June 14, 1917 they purchased a building lot on Big Hill avenue for which they paid $375. In the same month Dr. W. W. Horner, of Louisville, held a tent meeting on this lot and there were twenty-two additions to the church. At the close of this meeting excavation for the foundation of a church building began. J. CALVIN TAYLOR GOES TO HIS REWARD

Prominent and Respected Citizen and Business Man Succumbs After Long Illness

Mr. J. Calvin Taylor died at his home on Broadway Friday morning at 6 o'clock, after an illness of several months. He has spent most of his life in Richmond, having been in the hardware business on Main street for a number of years. He was a devoted member of the Baptist church, having been one of its most faithful deacons, and never missed a service when he was able to attend. His place, will be hard to fill. He was devoted to his home and family, consisting of his wife, who was Miss Webster, of Cincinnati, and one son, Webster Taylor, to whom the sympathy of many friends is extended in this sad hour. Four brothers also survive the deceased, E. S. and Burgin Taylor, of Deland, Fla., Cash Taylor, of Illinois, and C. A. Taylor, of Richmond.

Funeral services will not be announced until a wire is received from his brothers, who have been notified of his death.

CENTRE-HARVARD GAME STARTS AT 1:30

Boston, Mass., Oct. 28.—The Harvard athletic management has decided to start Saturday's game at 2:30 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock. Last week's game with Penn State started at 3 o'clock, and while it was a game in which there were unusually long delays the finish came in almost real darkness.

In the last quarter, when Penn State was driving up the field, striving to break the 21 to 21 score, none could see what was going on, and the defensive players of the Harvard team were at a tremendous disadvantage as they tried to stop the shift back-field play of their opponents.

The Centre team worked out Thursday afternoon at a Boston high school field, as the train did not arrive in Hultown until 1:30 o'clock. The Colonels were scheduled for a practice session at the Stadium at 1 o'clock.

Owen, Crimson line smasher, who was reported out of the game, had recovered sufficiently from last Saturday's contest to take full part in yesterday afternoon's scrimmage. Jenkins, Grattwick, Clark and Chapin were among the regenerated cripples on the field yesterday afternoon.

Harvard is not worrying over the Centre game. The coaches and men are pointing ahead to the Princeton contest, which is just one week off. The Centre squad arrived here in the best of shape and in high spirits, confident that it will make a better showing than it did last year.

Telegraphers Notified

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—E. J. Manion, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, today sent a code telegram to the general chairmen or the order on various roads, informing them officially the strike scheduled for October 30 is called off. This completes notifications to the unions involved.

YOU NEED EXTRA VOTES; YOU CAN WIN THEM

Win 50,000 Extra Votes—Grasp the Opportunity Given You in Opportunity Coupons

Some candidates try to cover too much territory at one time, instead of thoroughly canvassing a section of town, or soliciting every house on a street they may be working. They jump haphazardly about — retrace their steps, waste time, and then wonder "Why it takes so long to accomplish so little?"

As Ye Sow

A candidate who wastes time, or procrastinates; who sows hopes, instead of work, will not reap an automobile, a wonderful Victrola, cash, or very much compensation.

Opportunity Periods

Your opportunity to win those five 10,000 Opportunity Coupons will end on November 1st. Do not let this wonderful opportunity pass. Grasp it by turning in as much as $90, in cash subscription, business by November 1st.

Be Ambitious

The ambitions will not be content with just $90 worth of subscription business. They will turn in more and win subscriptions each day until Opportunity Period is no more, as this is by far the most opportune time during this campaign to secure a large volume of votes, easy, and get such a lead that you will be hard to catch in the last of the race.

Be a winner, be ambitious, be in the race from beginning to the end.

BROTHERHOODS SAY IT'S THEIR VICTORY

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Smiles of relief were written on the faces of members of the Federal Railway Labor Board when it met today to clean up details of the cancelled railroad strike. Hundreds of messages of congratulations poured into the Board's quarters.

Railroad brotherhood chiefs today called the result a victory for men because the Board conceded no further wage cuts will be considered until pending questions before the Board are cleared, thereby postponing the question of a new wage revision for nearly a year. Moreover action on the question of a change in rules is unlikely to become an immediate issue.

MRS. M'SWAIN LOSES SISTER AT WARSAW

Mrs. Bud McSwain received a wire Monday afternoon announcing the death of an older sister, Mrs. Susie Webb, of Warsaw, Gallatin county. Mr. and Mrs. McSwain left Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral services, which were conducted Wednesday. Mrs. Webb is survived by her husband, seven children, two sisters and two brothers. Remains were interred in Florence cemetery in Indiana.

HER LONG SEARCH IS NOW REWARDED

Mrs. Ida Pickett Was Twenty-five Years Trying To Find Relief—At Last Succeeds

Mrs. Ida Pickett, 274 South Division street, Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Twenty-five years is a long time to keep looking for something without finding it, and it's no wonder I almost lost hope. But I finally found what I was hunting—a medicine to relieve me of an awful case of indigestion."

"Tanlac rewarded my search for relief, and I now enjoy better health than I have in thirty years."

Many people on verge of despair have taken Tanlac and recovered.

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.
